Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 22 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Very warm and sunny today. Chance of heavy thundery showers.

Today:
Early mist and fog patches soon dispersing to leave another fine day, with plenty of very warm sunshine. There is the small risk of an isolated heavy shower or thunderstorm developing in the afternoon, before fading in the evening. Maximum temperature 28 deg C (82 deg F).

Tonight:
Any isolated heavy showers or thunderstorms soon fading to leave a dry night, with clear skies for many. Low cloud may drift in from off the North Sea overnight. Warm. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Friday:
Early low cloud soon retreating back to the coast to leave another dry day, with plenty of warm sunshine, although hazier than previous days. Less hot compared to recent days. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Turning unsettled with rain or thunderstorms moving up from the south on Saturday. Further heavy and thundery showers on Sunday and Monday. Feeling warm and humid for many.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.